

ASEAN Morning Bytes

General market tone: Risk-off.

Trade tensions are seen to weigh on market sentiment again on Friday with Fed officials coy about moving.

EM Space: Beijing and Washington continue to trade barbs and possibly tariffs.

- General Asia: Sentiment overnight remained negative with Beijing and Washington trading barbs about the ongoing trade spat. Fed officials remained non-committal to acting on rates in either fashion with key officials preaching caution amidst the trade debacle. Oil prices took yet another tumble, this time on global growth fears.
- Singapore: April industrial production data is due. Yet another weak export reading in April, down 10% YoY, sustain the negative trend in manufacturing and GDP growth. Yesterday's CPI data was in line with the consensus estimate of 0.8% headline and 1.3% core inflation (vs. 0.6% and 1.4% respectively in March). Slowing growth and core inflation support a view of some easing in the MAS (Monetary Authority of Singapore) policy in October with a reduction in the SGD nominal effective exchange rate appreciation path in October.
- Malaysia: April CPI data is due today. The administered fuel price cut in January was partly reversed in March pushing inflation back into the positive territory after two consecutive months of negative. The base year effect could nudge it up in line with the consensus forecast to 0.4% YoY in April from 0.2% in March, though the risk remains tilted on the downside from the weakness of consumer spending seen in latest GDP figures.

- Philippines: The Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP) reduced reserve requirements (RRR) for smaller banks by 2% in phases. Similar to the cut in commercial banks in terms of schedule, the move would release roughly PHP 16bn into the system after all the reductions are carried out. The move shows dovish leaning of the current Governor who is expected to cut both policy rates and RRR further in 2019.

What to look out for: Trade developments

- Malaysia CPI and GIR (24 May)
- Singapore industrial production (24 May)
- Fed Kaplan (24 May)
- Taiwan GDP (24 May)

Author

Nicholas Mapa

Senior Economist, Philippines

nicholas.antonio.mapa@asia.ing.com

Disclaimer

This publication has been prepared by the Economic and Financial Analysis Division of ING Bank N.V. ("ING") solely for information purposes without regard to any particular user's investment objectives, financial situation, or means. ING forms part of ING Group (being for this purpose ING Group N.V. and its subsidiary and affiliated companies). The information in the publication is not an investment recommendation and it is not investment, legal or tax advice or an offer or solicitation to purchase or sell any financial instrument. Reasonable care has been taken to ensure that this publication is not untrue or misleading when published, but ING does not represent that it is accurate or complete. ING does not accept any liability for any direct, indirect or consequential loss arising from any use of this publication. Unless otherwise stated, any views, forecasts, or estimates are solely those of the author(s), as of the date of the publication and are subject to change without notice.

The distribution of this publication may be restricted by law or regulation in different jurisdictions and persons into whose possession this publication comes should inform themselves about, and observe, such restrictions.

Copyright and database rights protection exists in this report and it may not be reproduced, distributed or published by any person for any purpose without the prior express consent of ING. All rights are reserved. ING Bank N.V. is authorised by the Dutch Central Bank and supervised by the European Central Bank (ECB), the Dutch Central Bank (DNB) and the Dutch Authority for the Financial Markets (AFM). ING Bank N.V. is incorporated in the Netherlands (Trade Register no. 33031431 Amsterdam). In the United Kingdom this information is approved and/or communicated by ING Bank N.V., London Branch. ING Bank N.V., London Branch is authorised by the Prudential Regulation Authority and is subject to regulation by the Financial Conduct Authority and limited regulation by the Prudential Regulation Authority. ING Bank N.V., London branch is registered in England (Registration number BR000341) at 8-10 Moorgate, London EC2 6DA. For US Investors: Any person wishing to discuss this report or effect transactions in any security discussed herein should contact ING Financial Markets LLC, which is a member of the NYSE, FINRA and SIPC and part of ING, and which has accepted responsibility for the distribution of this report in the United States under applicable requirements.

Additional information is available on request. For more information about ING Group, please visit <http://www.ing.com>.