

ASEAN Morning Bytes

General market tone: Risk-on

The positive US labor data and news on the US-China trade negotiations underpin risk-on market sentiment.

EM Space: Positive developments on trade front and decent NFP to boost risk taking

- General Asia: With US growth still supporting decent job growth and with positive developments on the trade negotiation front, market players may find a good reason to take on risk for the time being. Later in the week, investors will look to US inflation data and Chinese trade data for direction.
- Thailand: The Bank of Thailand is looking to expand the scope of current local currency settlement with Bank Indonesia (BI) from trade to direct investment flows between two countries. Aimed at reducing the transaction costs and exchange risks for businesses, the BoT already has such an arrangement in place with Malaysia's central bank.
- Indonesia: IDR ended last week on a positive note with BI Governor Warjiyo pledging to be "forward-looking and ahead of the curve" on the policy. This was in reaction to comments from former central bank chief who said that BI might consider slashing rates given the relative strength of the IDR and given a now more stable global outlook.
- Philippines: CPI inflation dipped further to 3.3% in March from 3.8% in the previous month.

The food prices, with the largest weight in CPI index, continues to drag the overall headline print lower, more than offsetting higher transport costs due to the steady rise in crude oil prices and domestic pump costs. The BSP indicated that they would continue to monitor price movements. However, with inflation expectations well-anchored, perhaps the central bank may begin considering slashing borrowing costs at the next meeting in May.

What to look out for: ECB meeting and Fed minutes

- Taiwan trade (8 April)
- US factory orders (8 April)
- Indonesia GIR (8 April)
- Taiwan inflation (9 April)
- ECB meeting (10 April)
- US inflation (10 April)
- Fed meeting minutes (11 April)
- Philippine trade (11 April)
- Malaysia industrial production (11 April)
- US PPI (11 April)
- Singapore GDP (12 April)
- China trade (12 April)
- US consumer sentiment (12 April)

Author

Nicholas Mapa

Senior Economist, Philippines

nicholas.antonio.mapa@asia.ing.com

Disclaimer

This publication has been prepared by the Economic and Financial Analysis Division of ING Bank N.V. ("ING") solely for information purposes without regard to any particular user's investment objectives, financial situation, or means. ING forms part of ING Group (being for this purpose ING Group N.V. and its subsidiary and affiliated companies). The information in the publication is not an investment recommendation and it is not investment, legal or tax advice or an offer or solicitation to purchase or sell any financial instrument. Reasonable care has been taken to ensure that this publication is not untrue or misleading when published, but ING does not represent that it is accurate or complete. ING does not accept any liability for any direct, indirect or consequential loss arising from any use of this publication. Unless otherwise stated, any views, forecasts, or estimates are solely those of the author(s), as of the date of the publication and are subject to change without notice.

The distribution of this publication may be restricted by law or regulation in different jurisdictions and persons into whose possession this publication comes should inform themselves about, and observe, such restrictions.

Copyright and database rights protection exists in this report and it may not be reproduced, distributed or published by any person for any purpose without the prior express consent of ING. All rights are reserved. ING Bank N.V. is authorised by the Dutch Central Bank and supervised by the European Central Bank (ECB), the Dutch Central Bank (DNB) and the Dutch Authority for the Financial Markets (AFM). ING Bank N.V. is incorporated in the Netherlands (Trade Register no. 33031431 Amsterdam). In the United Kingdom this information is approved and/or communicated by ING Bank N.V., London Branch. ING Bank N.V., London Branch is authorised by the Prudential Regulation Authority and is subject to regulation by the Financial Conduct Authority and limited regulation by the Prudential Regulation Authority. ING Bank N.V., London branch is registered in England (Registration number BR000341) at 8-10 Moorgate, London EC2 6DA. For US Investors: Any person wishing to discuss this report or effect transactions in any security discussed herein should contact ING Financial Markets LLC, which is a member of the NYSE, FINRA and SIPC and part of ING, and which has accepted responsibility for the distribution of this report in the United States under applicable requirements.

Additional information is available on request. For more information about ING Group, please visit <http://www.ing.com>.