

ASEAN Morning Bytes

General market tone: Wait and watch.

Softening economic data is likely to weigh on investors' sentiment as they look to central bank stimulus efforts and trade negotiations for direction.

EM Space: Softer data warrants greater policy accommodation

- General Asia: Weakening economic data reinforces the need for stimulus by major central banks -- Fed's Powell pledging to act if needed, the People's Bank of China (PBOC) trimmed RRR after trade figures disappointed, and the ECB is likely to follow on the easing path at its meeting this week. There is plenty of economic data from Asia to keep markets busy this week, though the key highlight of the week will be Bank Negara Malaysia's policy decision, which is too close to call.
- Philippines: The gross international reserves (GIR) hit a record high of $85.6bn in August as the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP) is building its stock of foreign currency amidst swirling headwinds from the trade war. Meanwhile, the minutes of the most recent BSP policy meeting pointed to a benign inflation outlook given base effects and improved supply chains but it also warned of risks from the global slowdown. We expect another round of BSP rate cuts in September and a reserve requirement reduction in the fourth quarter.
- Indonesia: Bank Indonesia's Deputy Governor Destry Damayanti downplayed the risk of capital outflows as yields continue to be attractive to foreign investors. She also highlighted the economy's strong fundamentals reflected by rising foreign reserves to $126.4 billion in August, or equivalent to 7.1 months of imports and short-term debt, as the central bank stockpiles to fend off speculative attacks on the currency.

What to look out for: China inflation and ECB meeting

- Taiwan trade (9 September)
- Philippines trade (10 September)
- China inflation (10 September)
- Malaysia industrial production (11 September)
- US PPI and wholesale inventories (11 September)
- Singapore retail sales (12 September)
- India inflation and trade (12 September)
- ECB meeting (12 September)
- Malaysia central bank meeting (12 September)
- Thailand GIR (13 September)

Author

Nicholas Mapa

Senior Economist, Philippines

nicholas.antonio.mapa@asia.ing.com

Disclaimer

This publication has been prepared by the Economic and Financial Analysis Division of ING Bank N.V. ("ING") solely for information purposes without regard to any particular user's investment objectives, financial situation, or means. ING forms part of ING Group (being for this purpose ING Group N.V. and its subsidiary and affiliated companies). The information in the publication is not an investment recommendation and it is not investment, legal or tax advice or an offer or solicitation to purchase or sell any financial instrument. Reasonable care has been taken to ensure that this publication is not untrue or misleading when published, but ING does not represent that it is accurate or complete. ING does not accept any liability for any direct, indirect or consequential loss arising from any use of this publication. Unless otherwise stated, any views, forecasts, or estimates are solely those of the author(s), as of the date of the publication and are subject to change without notice.

The distribution of this publication may be restricted by law or regulation in different jurisdictions and persons into whose possession this publication comes should inform themselves about, and observe, such restrictions.

Copyright and database rights protection exists in this report and it may not be reproduced, distributed or published by any person for any purpose without the prior express consent of ING. All rights are reserved. ING Bank N.V. is authorised by the Dutch Central Bank and supervised by the European Central Bank (ECB), the Dutch Central Bank (DNB) and the Dutch Authority for the Financial Markets (AFM). ING Bank N.V. is incorporated in the Netherlands (Trade Register no. 33031431 Amsterdam). In the United Kingdom this information is approved and/or communicated by ING Bank N.V., London Branch. ING Bank N.V., London Branch is authorised by the Prudential Regulation Authority and is subject to regulation by the Financial Conduct Authority and limited regulation by the Prudential Regulation Authority. ING Bank N.V., London branch is registered in England (Registration number BR000341) at 8-10 Moorgate, London EC2 6DA. For US Investors: Any person wishing to discuss this report or effect transactions in any security discussed herein should contact ING Financial Markets LLC, which is a member of the NYSE, FINRA and SIPC and part of ING, and which has accepted responsibility for the distribution of this report in the United States under applicable requirements.

Additional information is available on request. For more information about ING Group, please visit <http://www.ing.com>.