Carsten on 2021: Things can only get better

Focus on this: We're sure to see a synchronised global recovery in the second half of this year. Right now, there's lots of concern about the virus and noise surrounding the vaccine. But we need to take a slightly longer view. Watch Carsten Brzeski with his main thoughts and read more from our January Economic Update here

Things can only get better

ING's Carsten Brzeski on why we need to take step back and look for the good times which are surely coming later in the year.
