

Get research funding with the TFI

Our partners at the Think Forward Initiative are looking for research proposals around (financial) decision-making, financial wellbeing and financial empowerment

The Think Forward Initiative is awarding funding to original research projects that provide relevant impact-driven insights in the domains of people's (financial) decision-making, financial well-being, and financial empowerment. They're particularly encouraging empirical research at the individual or household level, as well as research on institutional, economic, cultural, social or behavioural factors that might affect individuals' financial decisions.
