

Key events in EMEA and Latam next week

Trade balances and sentiment indicators take centre stage in EMEA and Latam next week and will be closely scrutinised following the recent volatility in emerging markets. We're also looking out for Polish budget data, which should show that July's huge deficit was an anomaly

Polish budget data should show July as an anomaly

The budget data should provide evidence that the enormous deficit in July was a one-off. We expect the August figure to present a more typical seasonal pattern of both expenses and revenues. According to the Ministry of Labour estimate, the unemployment rate should fall further to 5.8%, below the initial market consensus (5.9%).
