

Indonesia: January trade deficit dims current account view

Sustained high import growth is evidence of sustained expansion of the domestic sector. The trade balance turned into a deficit which is an inauspicious start for the current account in 2018.