Better than expected

In March, the PMI index for the manufacturing sector remained stable at 53.7pt, above the market consensus of 53 despite the negative slide in Western Europe, where both France and Germany reported a decline in the sentiment.

The data provider IHS Markit says the increase in the subcategories describing activity were small. Remarks on long-term indicators remain more upbeat with an improvement in the employment situation and the increase of the delivery time.

Overall we expect a solid performance in the manufacturing sector in the first quarter averaging growth near 6% YoY and a moderation towards 3.5 - 4.5% YoY in the second half of 2017.

The manufacturing sector in Europe is dependent on Eurozone sentiment. We forecast a slowdown of euro area GDP from 2.7% YoY in 1Q17 to 2.1% YoY in the last quarter of 2018.
