Europe is losing out big time on the AI and data centre battle

The US is spending more than 5 times as much as Europe on data centre construction. China is spending more than 3 times as much. And that means Europe risks losing out in the battle for AI supremacy. And ING's Diederik Stadij says there's more: spending on artificial intelligence is boosting GDP growth, growth European leaders desperately need.

ING's Diederik Stadij on the race for AI and data centre supremacy - it's a race that Europe appears to be losing
